How much does a 3-meter L pigtail cost

Overview

Stock pigtail configurations are available with your choice of LC, SC or ST fiber optic connectors and a variety of endface polishes.

Key Takeaways

A 3-meter single-mode fiber optic pigtail typically costs between $5 and $20 per unit, depending on fiber type, connector, and vendor.

Overview

A 3-meter L-shaped fiber optic pigtail is a pre-terminated fiber cable used for splicing or connecting optical networks. These pigtails are available in single-mode or multimode fibers, with common connector types including ST, SC, and LC. The 3-meter length is standard for installations requiring some flexibility in routing and splicing.

Price Factors

Fiber Type: Single-mode fibers are generally slightly more expensive than multimode fibers due to lower attenuation and longer-distance performance. Connector Type: Pre-terminated connectors like ST, SC, or LC can affect cost; high-precision connectors or factory-polished UPC/APC types may increase the price. Quantity: Buying in bulk often reduces the per-unit cost.

Vendor and Brand: Prices vary by supplier; reputable brands may charge more for quality assurance and durability.

Typical Cost Range

For a 3-meter single-mode ST pigtail, the expected cost is approximately $5–$20 per unit. Multimode versions or specialty connectors may fall at the lower or higher end of this range. Additional costs may include shipping, protective sleeves, or splicing kits if required for installation.

Recommendations

Verify the fiber type (single-mode vs multimode) and connector type before purchasing. Consider pre-polished connectors for faster installation and lower splice loss. Check vendor reviews and warranty options to ensure reliability in network performance.

By considering these factors, you can select a 3-meter L pigtail that balances cost, quality, and installation requirements.
