Wholesale of Spectrometers from Well-known Manufacturers

Overview

Wholesale Spectrometers Suppliers, Manufacturers & Exporters | Bulk. Browse catalogs from verified manufacturers and exporters offering custom Spectromet.

Key Takeaways

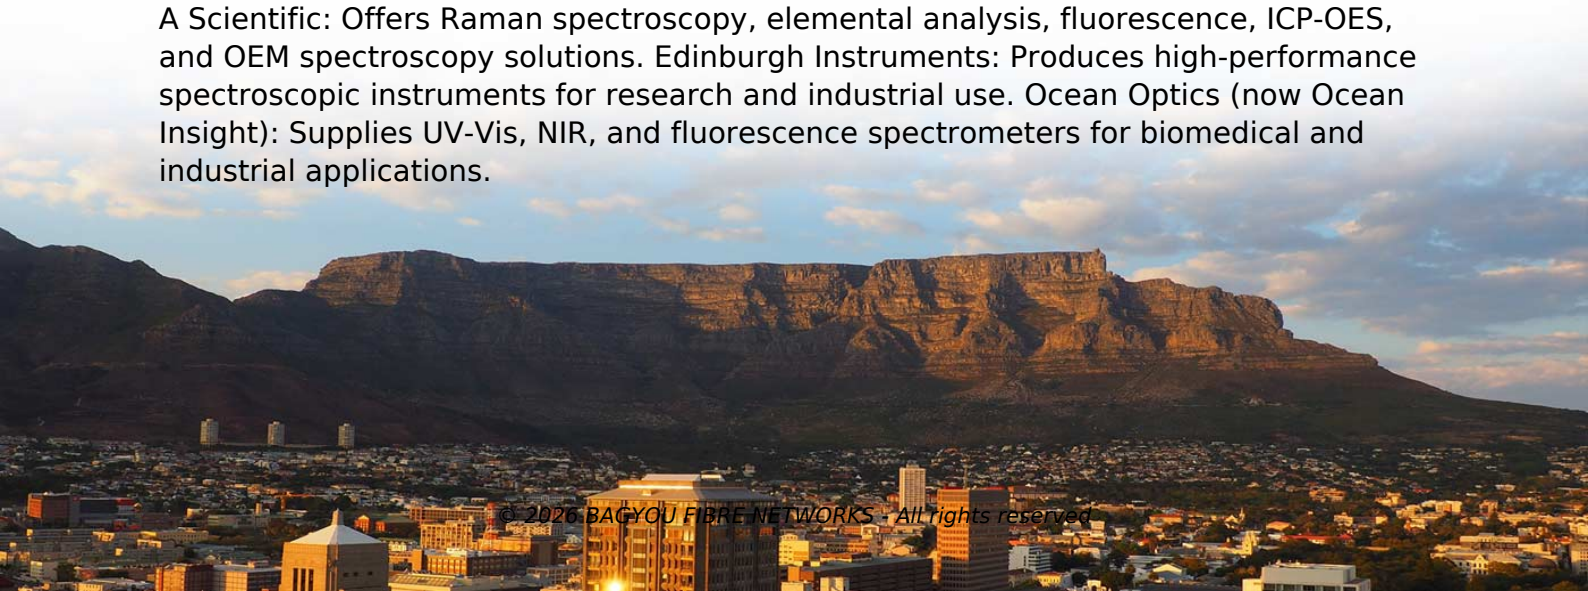

You can source spectrometers wholesale directly from verified manufacturers and distributors such as Bruker, Hamamatsu, HORIBA, Edinburgh Instruments, and Ocean Optics, with options for bulk orders and factory-direct quotes.

Leading Manufacturers and Suppliers

Several globally recognized manufacturers offer spectrometers suitable for wholesale procurement: Bruker Optics: Provides FTIR, NIR, Raman spectrometers, and mobile gas chromatographs/mass spectrometers for industrial and research applications. Hamamatsu Photonics: Specializes in opto-electronic components and spectrometers covering a wide spectral range.

HORIB

A Scientific: Offers Raman spectroscopy, elemental analysis, fluorescence, ICP-OES, and OEM spectroscopy solutions. Edinburgh Instruments: Produces high-performance spectroscopic instruments for research and industrial use. Ocean Optics (now Ocean Insight): Supplies UV-Vis, NIR, and fluorescence spectrometers for biomedical and industrial applications.

Magritek: Manufactures benchtop NMR spectrometers for analytical laboratories. Wholesale Procurement OptionsGlobalLinker provides a curated list of verified manufacturers and exporters, allowing direct contact for bulk orders, low MOQs, and custom solutions. Suppliers are GST-verified and offer factory-direct quotes with technical specifications.

Go

Photonics Directory lists over 1,400 spectrometers from 156 manufacturers, enabling buyers to filter by type, wavelength range, and application, and request quotes directly from manufacturers or regional distributors.

R

P Photonics Buyer's Guide offers a comprehensive overview of 133 suppliers, including product descriptions, images, and technical details, helping buyers make informed purchasing decisions.

Types of Spectrometers Available

Wholesale suppliers offer a wide range of spectrometer types: UV-Vis and NIR Spectrometers: For chemical analysis, material characterization, and process monitoring. Raman Spectrometers: Used in chemical identification, pharmaceuticals, and forensic applications.

FTI

R Spectrometers: For infrared spectroscopy in research and industrial quality control. Terahertz and Femtosecond Spectrometers: For advanced research and non-destructive testing.

OE

M and Benchtop Models: Compact, ruggedized instruments for integration into production lines or laboratory setups.

How to Source Wholesale

Identify your technical requirements: wavelength range, resolution, detector type, and application. Filter suppliers by region and certification: Ensure they are verified and capable of handling bulk orders. Request factory-direct quotes: Many suppliers provide pricing, lead times, and customization options.

Compare specifications and support: Consider warranty, technical support, and integration capabilities. By leveraging these resources, businesses can efficiently source spectrometers in bulk from reputable manufacturers, ensuring quality, reliability, and competitive pricing for industrial, research, or educational applications.
