Wireless router fiber optic cable indicator light is on red

Overview

Orange, amber, or red lights usually indicate a problem ranging from a firmware update in progress to a lost internet connection. Most of these issues can be resolved with a simple power cycle (unplug for 30 seconds, plug back in). When it's green and steady, everything is fine. However, when it blinks red or stays solid red, it signifies a Loss of Signal, a problem preventing your router from communicating. Whether your modem is blinking orange, your router has a solid red light, or you are staring at a mysterious "DS" indicator, you will find the answer below. Blinking green typically means data. A red light on your router can be a source of frustration and confusion. Fortunately, diagnosing and resolving these issues doesn't have to be complicated. Understanding Router LED Indicators: A Quick Reference Before diving into troubleshooting, let's clarify the typical meaning of different LED indicators.
